10 Limiting Mindsets of Team Leaders

1. Team building only needs to happen when the team first forms
2. Team development only needs to happen when things are getting difficult
3. The performance of the team is the sum of the team members' performance
4. Team development is about relating better to each other
5. Team development is about the team having better meetings
6. Team development only happens at off-site workshops
7. Team development is about the team trusting each other
8. Conflict in teams is a bad thing
9. We are not a team unless we work at the same things together
10. Team development is an end in itself
